

STANSFIELD TURNER

22 JAN 1981

Dear Doctor Belew:

Thanks for your very nice and warm letter. I had told [redacted] to let you know that I might be able to come by Waco on the 16th and 17th of February. Unfortunately my plans have now developed so that that looks to be out of the question.

Beyond that, while I am in this period of transition from one profession to another (don't know just which!) I am reluctant to make too many out-of-town commitments. May I take the liberty of letting you know however, if I will be anywhere near Waco in the not too distant future? I would enjoy the chance to have an exchange with your students and faculty. It's just difficult to make a commitment at this particular time.

Thanks very much for thinking of me and my warm regards to President McCall.

Yours sincerely,

STANSFIELD TURNER

Dear Admiral Turner:

I was pleased to talk with your assistant, [redacted] this morning and learned that you may visit Baylor University. I am taking the liberty of enclosing a list of previous Koeppler Institute lecturers so that you may be informed about the quality of the program.

STAT

We are delighted that if you should come Mrs. Turner would accompany you. We will provide round trip air fare reimbursement for you and your wife from Washington to Dallas as well as an honorarium of $1,000. You will be met by me at the Dallas airport and be brought directly to Waco in the Baylor plane and returned in the same manner to DFW for your onward flight to Washington.

I related to Mr. Moore that a number of Baylor faculty and Wacoans have participated in Wilton Park conferences and that you could expect a number of them to attend the public lecture. It is my hope that you may give us a favorable response at which time I will issue invitations for an off-the-record discussion which we normally begin at 10:30 in the morning and end it with the discussion continuing through a luncheon. The public lecture could either be that evening or the preceding one.

A restored Victorian house on the campus serves as our guest quarters and we would offer you one of the guest rooms if that would meet with your approval. Several motels exist in the neighborhood where we could readily place you if you preferred that type of accommodation.

The President of the University and others are pleased at the prospect that you may be our guest.

Sincerely yours,

John S. Belew
Vice President for Academic Affairs

MEMO FOR ADMIRAL TURNER

14 Jan 81

SUBJ: Visiting Lecturer, Heinz Koeppler Institute, Baylor University

1. I spoke with Dr. John Belew (VP for Academic Affairs) today on the possibility of your attending as a visiting lecturer. The dates we discussed were 16 and 17 February. On the first day you would give a public lecture and on the second day participate in an off-the-record discussion with opinion leaders of the community.

2. The university would provide the following:

- Roundtrip coach fare for you and Mrs. Turner from Washington to Dallas.
- Lodging and transportation (university plane will meet you at Dallas and return after visit).
- Honorarium of $1,000.

3. The danger I see in your doing this is setting a precedent for too low an honorarium. On the other hand, it does tie in well with the Mexico trip and Belew says it is a prestigious program (he also said there would be a good size group of former Wilton Park people).

4. Shall I accept? ☐ Yes

☐ No

Leave Mexico on ☐ 14 Feb

☐ 15 Feb

*V/R
Henry*

P.S. I did check with American Airlines and the roundtrip fare to Mexico is $820.00 for two. You are presently confirmed for departure on the 14th vice the 15th. from Mexico

Dear Admiral Turner:

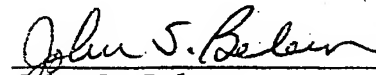

Before Sir Heinz Koeppler's premature death on April 1, 1979, he had mentioned to me that he had discussed with you the possibility of your participating as a guest lecturer in the "Institute for the Study of the Interaction of Foreign and Domestic Affairs" at Baylor University.

This Institute has now proceeded for one year since his death in a fashion that would please him very much. The standards that he set and the momentum that he provided for it are undoubtedly responsible for the permanent place that it has assumed on our campus. This outcome would not surprise any Wilton Park participant.

I would be very pleased if you would consider an invitation to participate in this Institute for one day some time during the upcoming academic year, 1980-81. I realize that your responsibilities are heavy ones but we would be willing to arrange our schedule in any way that would accommodate you.

I look forward to hearing from you at your convenience.

Sincerely yours,

John S. Belew
Vice President for Academic Affairs
